I pay my respects to the Sun, who is as radiant as the Japanese Rose flower, possesses great brilliance, is the destroyer of darkness, eliminates all sins, and is the son of Sage Kashyap. I salute the Moon, who is as radiant as curd, conch, and frost, emerged from the Milky Ocean, is the crown jewel of Lord Shiva, and symbolizes the nectar of life. I bow to Mars, who was born from Mother Earth, whose radiance is comparable to lightning, who is in his youth and holds power in his hands. I pay respects to Mercury, the son of the Moon, who is as deeply green as the bud of the Priyangu creeper, who possesses incomparable beauty and is endowed with tranquil qualities. I salute Jupiter, the teacher of gods and sages, who glows like gold, is endowed with wisdom, and is the lord of all the worlds. I salute Venus, who is as white as the snow, jasmine, and the stem of the lotus, who is the supreme teacher of the demons, the preacher of all scriptures, and the son of Sage Bhrgu. I bow to Saturn, who glows with the blue-black sheen of kohl, who is the son of the Sun, the elder brother of Yama, and was born from Chhaya and Martand (Sun). I pay my respects to Rahu, who is half-bodied, greatly powerful, known to swallow the Sun and the Moon, and who was born from the womb of Simhika. I bow to Ketu, whose radiance is like the flower of a Palasa plant, who is of a Rudra (ferocious) nature and the son of Rudra, who is fearsome, and is the head of the stars and planets. One who reads this prayer (that emerged from the mouth of Lord Veda Vyasa) during the day or at night with single-minded concentration, finds all his obstacles removed. The nightmares of men, women, and kings are destroyed. Those who read this gain exceptional wealth and health and see an increase in their strength.

Vimshottari Dasha is a system used in Vedic astrology for determining the planetary periods, also known as dashas, in a person's life. The word 'Vimshottari' means '120' in Sanskrit, which represents the total number of years in a complete cycle of all the planetary periods.

The system is based on the position of the Moon at the time of a person's birth, and it assigns certain periods of time to each of the nine planets of Vedic astrology. Each planet has a specific number of years assigned to it, ranging from 6 to 20 years, depending on its position in the system.

During each planetary period, the planet in question is said to have a significant influence on a person's life. This influence can be positive or negative, depending on the individual's birth chart and the specific planetary alignments at the time.

Vimshottari Dasha is considered an important tool in Vedic astrology, as it provides a detailed and accurate system for predicting major events and changes in a person's life. It is widely used by astrologers to make predictions about career, relationships, health, and other aspects of a person's life, and can be a valuable tool for those seeking guidance or insight into their future.

Jaimini Chara Dasha, as explained by Iranagati Rangacharya, is an esteemed progression system in Vedic astrology that provides a framework for predicting significant life events. It emphasizes the movable karakas and is dependent on the placement of signs rather than planetary positions, making it unique. Rangacharya's interpretation brings out nuanced subtleties, enhancing the system's effectiveness in delivering precise and contextually relevant predictions.

These planets, though difficult, nudge us out of our comfort zones and prompt self-improvement. Vedic remedies, including gemstones, mantras, rituals, fasting, and charity, are used to soften these malefic effects and harmonize our energies with cosmic rhythms. For example, mitigating Saturn's influence might involve wearing blue sapphire, chanting specific mantras, or giving food to the needy. These remedies are not immediate solutions, but consistent practice and faith in these age-old wisdoms can help us navigate life's challenges better. Therefore, malefic planetary effects are not obstacles but cues for introspection and spiritual growth, facilitated by Vedic remedies.

Some people own numerous vehicles, while others, despite great efforts, fail to acquire even one. # Fate, Destiny, or Prarabdha (Destined Karma)

There are both believers and non-believers in this world. Even if non-believers do not acknowledge the existence of God, they cannot deny the role of fate in life, although it may not mean much to them. Everyone has to accept, willingly or unwillingly, that there is indeed a power that shapes our destiny based on our actions. The general belief is that the fruit of the actions performed in a person's previous life is received in their next life, and the results of these actions are commonly referred to as fate, which befalls a person in their present life. Therefore, a person's life is not just influenced by destiny but also by his actions; in other words, a person's destiny is shaped based on his actions. Now, the question arises, if our destiny is formed by our actions, then why does a person, who is currently following the path of honesty, truthfulness, altruism, and other virtues, have to endure many difficulties in life, while another person who is on the wrong path still enjoys a happy life? If one looks closely, it becomes clear that the happiness earned through wrongdoing does not last long. In contrast, a person's good deeds help overcome obstacles in their destiny. It is a complex and debatable subject whether destiny or action is supreme, and what the reality of destiny is? In simple terms, it can be said that just as God is the truth, so is a person's destiny, which keeps changing based on his actions.

Humans possess limitless desires. They aspire to experience all the materialistic pleasures of the world, accumulate wealth, and acquire prosperity and happiness. Moreover, they make lifelong efforts as per their capability to achieve these. Along with these desires, there is another longing for recognition and esteemed status in society. They wish their actions to be praised, to be respected by all, and their fame to spread far and wide. Furthermore, they also desire their family members to abstain from any actions that could bring them dishonor. It's an absolute truth that regardless of how much worldly wealth one accumulates, post their demise, only their good deeds accompany them. Even in the materialistic world, they are remembered for their actions throughout their life. A single wrongful conduct can tarnish all the good deeds of a person's life. Hence, individuals who desire fame should always wisely choose their actions. However, sometimes, an individual's or their family members' actions do not lead to disgrace, rather, it occurs due to unforeseen, unknown, or adverse circumstances. From an astrological perspective, it's not the individual's fault but the unfavorable conditions of their planets that are included in their destiny and hence, they have to bear the consequences. Such obstructions to fame cause immense mental pain to individuals. Therefore, understanding these, one should take appropriate remedial actions.
